DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

400 Cedarcroft Road is a simplified version of the American Stick architectural style . The main structure is one story tall and five bays wide. The gabled roof is decorated by two gabled dormers. The two-sash casement windows of the dormers each have eight lights per sash. The considerably projecting eaves, which are supported by large brackets, are characteristic of the Stick style . The exterior wall material is brown shingle. The main entrance, with a flat-topped transom and side panels, is located in the central bay. It is protected by a gabled open porch supported by four wooden piers. Windows of the first story are double-hung with 12/1 lights. The left extension houses a double casement window with each sash containing twelve lights.

400 Cedarcroft Road is an earlier building of the middle-to-upper class development of "Cedarcroft".
